THINK OF CURE AS WHERE MOZART WOULD GET WILD IN BOSTON WITH A GAGGLE OF HIS FELLOW RAPSCALLIONS (AND POSSIBLY A FEW SAUCY MEZZO-SOPRANOS)

The interior of Cure Lounge was designed by well-know interior designer, John Stefanon of JFS Design Studio. The design aesthetics of Cure Lounge were drawn from a strong focus on history and mood. Originally designed to be the ladies lounge and orchestra area to the theater this uniquely beautiful space called for an understated elegance evocative of the period.

THE SPACE

Finished with a "Victorian Chic" design, the glamorized cues of Cure Lounge are evident from the moment you step in. Bold dramatic statements of shapes and patterns with a subtle, sophisticated color palette, balance and juxtapose each other in Jing-Jang form to bring a unique vibe to this historical Boston gem.

Cure Lounge's mood is enhanced within as you transition from the Main Lounge to the Back Lounge and a more surreal aesthetic introduces what use to be the orchestra pit area. The inspiration of "moths drawn to a flame" called for dim lighting and elements were selected to transport patrons into a warm summer night on the streets of Shanghai – or a far away fantasy location. Both lounges were created to bring an exciting movement within time and fantasy.
